

It Begins Here

At The Core...

LEADERSHIP FOR TEENAGE BOYS

- Leaders are not born. They learn to lead.
- Majority of male students never receive training in basic leadership and life skills.
- Positive relationships, sound character and confident displays of leadership contribute to students' success.

PREPARING FOR LEADERSHIP

At The Core provides an intensive, one day, on-campus forum where young men experience a hands-on approach to grasping the principles of leadership and relationships. By explaining leadership behaviors and attitudes in a relevant manner that they can understand, participants begin to grasp how their leadership skills can apply in daily life and help them to develop into men of character within their school and community.

LEADERSHIP IS A RELATIONSHIP

The theme of relational leadership is woven into activities and discussions as they learn the value of fostering meaningful relationships and connections by adapting to the needs of others. Ultimately, people will “go along with people that they get along with.” As a result, an environment of acceptance, collaboration and inclusiveness is created.

- CORE COMPONENTS-

- Communication
- Collaboration
- Empathy
- Empowerment

“The strength of any organization lies in the ability of its leaders to positively influence others through intentional connections.”
~ John Maxwell

$20 per student
(Minimum of 45)