CORE CONNECTIONS

A Guide to Teacher-Student Advisories

Core Trainings, a leader in staff and student development and leadership training, understands and addresses the challenges you face in introducing and implementing, or maintaining a teacher-student advisory program.

We Believe that creating intentional and meaningful connections between adults and students can help provide the emotional and social skills that students need in order to succeed.

Our Core Connections: A Guide to Teacher-Student Advisory brings teachers and students together in a way that encourages healthy activity and discussion based on core themes that are essential for building one's character and a foundation for success. By investing in the core, not only will one's character develop more positively, but one's attitude towards school, responsibilities and others will improve.
